- Preparing documents which set out the conditions of finance, repayments and loan periods.

Employment Information

Financial Brokers are "go-betweens" who typically liaise with banks and credit unions on behalf of their clients to arrange loans. They work as independent agents in assisting clients with accessing loans from a range of financial institutions. They typically work for dedicated broking businesses, often small or medium-sized enterprises. Some may be self-employed.

Financial Brokers not elsewhere classified may broker complex and commercial leases, equipment finance, commercial finance, project finance and finance for property developers. Investment Broker is a specialisation listed under this occupation Group.

In general, brokers require good interpersonal and communication skills, analytical skills, business acumen, and a results-based approach. They also need a thorough understanding of the financing options available and client needs.

Please note that Financial Dealers, Financial Investment Advisers and Managers are separately classified in ANZSCO, and will not be considered under this occupation. In addition, other Brokers elsewhere classified in ANZSCO will not be considered.

Not Elsewhere Classified (nec)

Some occupations assessed by VETASSESS are listed as 'nec' which means 'not elsewhere classified'. If you are nominating one of these occupations, you must ensure that your qualifications and employment are highly relevant to one of the occupation titles given in the ANZSCO description for the particular occupation. Other specific occupation titles which cannot be found elsewhere in ANZSCO will be considered on a case-by-case basis as long as they are relevant to the 'nec' codes. In order to be assessed against an 'nec' code, your occupation would generally be described as non-classified, yet specialised or related to its ANZSCO Unit Group description.

Your employment in these nominated occupations should not better match another ANZSCO code (whether assessed by VETASSESS or not). When considering whether to nominate an 'nec' occupation, you should consider the sub major group description and determine whether your skills best fit this category.

VETASSESS conducts a case-by-case assessment to determine whether the employment can be considered highly relevant to the classification. If your employment is highly relevant to another ANZSCO occupation, that period of employment cannot be assessed suitably against an 'nec' classification, regardless of whether the occupation is available for migration purposes or not.

You should provide a cover letter that justifies the rationale for choosing an 'nec' category.

Supporting material for assessment

When applying for a Skills Assessment, please ensure you submit sufficient evidence supporting your proof of identity, qualification and employment claims. A full list of the documents required can be found on the VETASSESS website under Eligibility Criteria.

You should provide a cover letter that justifies the rationale for choosing an 'nec' category.

While the VETASSESS Skills Assessment for migration purposes is distinct from an assessment for licensing or registration purposes, you are advised to provide copies of relevant licences (including from overseas), if held.

You should also provide details of any relevant training or professional development courses undertaken.

These may be detailed in your Curriculum Vitae/Resume.
