Employment Information

Employment Context

Categories of acceptable employment contexts include (but are not limited to):

- Industrial or Commercial Firms
- Government Bodies
- Construction
- Engineering
- Design Firms
- Consulting Firms

Employment Information

Contract Administrator provides high-level coordination of contracts, with the main objective of managing variations to contracts.

In construction the key role of a Contract Administrator would include managing all paperwork associated with contracts, projects and services provided, resolving any queries or issues that may arise concerning these matters. They are usually the first point of contact between their company and external parties.

Applicants are required to demonstrate their ability to comprehend the risk associated with the contract terms and formulate contract terms in the best interest of parties involved. They should be the delegated authority for the organisation to represent and protect the risk/liability of the organisation they work in with respect to the terms of the contracts they are involved in.

Applicants who are involved with executing standardised contract templates – especially in a sales context – will not be considered highly relevant for this occupation.
