- Customer Service Management

Employment

Highly relevant tasks include:

- ensuring operational efficiency within a call centre.
- providing direction and feedback to team members and assisting with recruitment.
- managing, motivating and developing staff providing customer services.

Employment information

Call or Contact Centre Managers are often responsible for managing complex operations in large call or contact centres. They are expected to manage a team of call centre staff and supervisors, be involved in establishing call centre objectives and analyse call centre metrics.

The role should be dedicated to managing a call or contact centre but may need to connect with other areas of the company. Positions based in a front-line retail setting, and positions predominately involving direct client transactional interaction on a regular basis, will not be accepted for this occupation.

While generally Operations Managers are not accepted for this occupation, positions with this title within a call or contact centre may be considered, if the tasks are highly relevant.

Supporting material for assessment

Applicants nominating this managerial occupation must submit an organisational chart. An organisational chart should include:

- The company letterhead,
- Your job position,

- The job position of your superiors and subordinates, as well as,
- All positions reporting to your immediate supervisor and to your direct subordinates.

If you are unable to obtain an organisational chart from your employer, please provide a statutory declaration outlining the required information and the reasons why this information cannot be provided.
