- Ensuring facilities are properly maintained and conform to safety standards.
- May undertake coaching and training of clients.
- May plan and organise catering facilities.

Employment information

Sports Centre Managers generally work in centres offering facilities and training in one or more types of sport. Their responsibilities usually cover the broad areas of marketing the facility and any special events, managing staff and dealing with the technical aspects of sports provision and health and safety. The manager is also accountable for the overall profitability of the centre.

Large centres may have a team of several managers who specialise in certain areas.

Gyms and centres exclusively offering fitness facilities are excluded from this occupation, as they are a better match with ANZSCO 149112 Fitness Centre Manager.

Supporting material for assessment

When applying for a Skills Assessment, please ensure you submit sufficient evidence supporting your proof of identity, qualification and employment claims. A full list of the documents required can be found on the VETASSESS website.

If you are nominating this managerial occupation, you must submit an organisational chart. This chart should include:

- The company letterhead
- Your job position
- The job positions of your superiors and subordinates as well as all positions reporting to your immediate supervisor and your direct subordinates.

The chart should also indicate the department's location within the overall company structure.

If you are unable to obtain an organisational chart from your employer, you must provide a statutory declaration outlining the required information and the reasons why you cannot provide the information.

If you are a self-employed sports centre owner, you must provide employment evidence as outlined on our website under Eligibility Criteria.
